To search plurals and other word endings, use (*) attached to the stem e.g. williams*. DO NOT USE A SPACE BEFORE THE ASTERISK.

Click or tab to move to the other boxes if more parameters are required to narrow the search.

Boolean searches may be used within the boxes.

For alternatives use: OR (must be in capitals).

For NOT, use space minus.

e.g. Wil* -(Williamson OR Wilson) excludes Williamson and Wilson from a list of names or places starting with 'Wil'.

The left hand buttons may also be clicked to switch between AND, OR, NOT.

Marion Button's
ARGUS & PORT PHILLIP HERALD PASSENGER INDEXES 1840-1868

---

This index is compiled from the Shipping Intelligence columns of the Port Phillip Herald which commenced on 3rd January 1840 through to the end of 1846 and from the Argus newspaper which commenced on 2nd June 1846 through to the end of 1865.

These indexes were the beginning of my indexing work and I was inspired out of a desire to locate the shipping arrival of one Colin Campbell who arrived in Melbourne in 1852. Having investigated the available indexes, I had still not discovered the correct arrival for Colin Campbell. Private sources had advised he arrived on the "Anna" in 1852 and using Marten A Syme's "Shipping Arrivals and Departures" Volume 2, I discovered the arrival date of the ship; I then checked the Argus newspaper and found "Campbell" listed as a passenger. I was fortunate enough to also find a Testimonial for the captain of the ship, also in the Argus, which clearly listed "Colin Campbell".

I offer this as an example of the usefulness of the Shipping Intelligence columns as no passenger lists have survived for the "Anna". This is surely not an isolated case.

I realized that, had the newspaper been indexed, I would have been able to locate my passenger quickly. In deciding to index the paper, it seemed logical to also include interstate shipping and so lists of passengers for both overseas and interstate from the Intelligence Columns are listed, together with any reference to people departing for overseas.

ALWAYS CHECK ORIGINAL SOURCE

Any index is only a tool towards further research. I cannot adequately stress that anyone using this index, should check both the Argus newspaper itself and also the shipping records. While completing this index, I was aware of mistakes made by the reporter but have made no attempt to correct or interpret what was written.

Interstate shipping arrivals for the period 1852 to 1924 are held at the Public Record Office, reference VPRS 944 and should be consulted if you find a relevant entry on the index. Outward Passengers to Interstate, United Kingdom and Foreign Ports for the period 1852 to 1923 can also be found in VPRS 3506. Check [www.prov.vic.gov.au for updated information on indexes and passenger lists.]

DATE REFERENCE

When a listing appears on the index with only a date reference given, you should refer to the newspaper of that date in order to see what type of mention is made of your passenger. These were usually Testimonials to the Captain.

Note: Where a Captain / Commander is mentioned, this does not necessarily mean he captained that ship; many travelled as passengers.

Where the designation of Master / Captain / Commander was not given, I have used the expression "Master" in order to differentiate from a passenger.

MR / MESSRS

Many men were listed together under "Messrs". Where this occurred, I did not include a title. Often men were listed with the title "Mr" and when this occurred, I listed them as such.

DUPLICATIONS

sometimes the same name was mentioned twice on the shipping list with no differentiation. In these cases, I have added them twice in case they referred to two people of the same name. Where a figure in brackets occurs, this was indicated as such in the newspaper.

INST / ULT

The expressions "inst" meaning "this month" and "ult" meaning "last month", were often used in the newspaper but not always correctly, especially at the beginning of a month. The arrival date is therefore likely to be the most accurate if the dates do not look correct.
